TIPS

The human body has four identities which are called “Elements” which vary according to the month we are born; they are Earth, Water, Wind and Fire. By using the correct aromatherapy oil to suit your element that massage will help adjust the balance of the body’s circulatory system for an overall sense of well-being.

Months of January, February & March is the month of “Fire Element”
For “Fire” people the best aromas come from geraniums, rose and rosemary and the ideal massage is medium pressure with light and slow movement.

Months of April, May & June is the month of “Wind Element”
For this group the most suitable oil smacks of ginger, lavenders and spearmint and the appropriate pressure of the massage is heavy and fast moving.

Months of July, August & September is the month of “Water Element”
For those people the perfect aromatherapy oils are orange, lemon or lavender scented. Appropriate massage is slow motion like a slowly flowing river.

Months of October, November & December is the month of “Earth Element”
For those people the ideal fragrant oil that is scented with herbs such as lemongrass and the pressure of the massage is a slow movement and some moderate to fast.

Before or after the massage when you drink water or eat fruit, herb match-ing the appropriate element of your body will help to improve your sense of well-being.
(Refreshment is included in all programs)
